Monday - Friday, 6-9 a.m.
Hosts Tom Temin and Emily Kopp bring you the latest news affecting the federal community each weekday morning, featuring interviews with top government executives and contractors. Listen live from 6 to 9 a.m. or download archived interviews on our daily show blogs.

Federal Drive Show Blog - January 23, 2014

This is the Federal Drive show blog. Here you can listen to our interviews, find more information about the quests on the show each day, as well as links to other stories and resources we discuss.

Today's Interviews:

Jeffery Hooghouse
Chief Value Officer
Army Corps of Engineers

Army budgets promise to be lean for many years to come. But the Army Corps of Engineers has quietly controlled costs for a long time using value engineering. It's a cost-cutting technique outlined in Circular 131.

The Office of Federal Procurement Policy recently updated the guidance for the first time in 20 years. Jeffery Hooghouse is chief value officer at the Army Corps of Engineers.

[http://www.federalnewsradio.com/?nid=85&sid=3547990]